BatchLine POS

The only EPOS system in the industry to be developed and run solely for the benefit of BA members.

Why we're the UK leader in bookshop systems

Designed for booksellers, BatchLine POS is intuitive and easy to use, even by less-experienced staff.

Open Bravo till software comes as standard with a BatchLine subscription.

Never lose a sale See Gardners price and availability, search for titles then build and send an electronic order from within BatchLine for fast delivery to your shop.

Industry links Order directly from leading UK publishers and integrate with National Book Tokens and Dojo for a seamless customer experience.

Easy returns Integration with our free Batch Returns system keeps stock current, making your shelf space work harder.

Flexible with fair pricing You aren't tied into a contract and fees are based on the number of installations you need at your shop.

Build connections Reward customers with our fully integrated gift and loyalty card scheme.

E-commerce solutions Enjoy low-cost access to images and bibliographic data for transactional websites.

Contact: mail@batch.co.uk – www.batch.co.uk

Built for booksellers

- Gives you the choice to order directly from leading suppliers, including Argosy, Booksource, Gardners UK and EU, Macmillan, Hachette, PRH (including GBS) and HarperCollins.
- Manages your book and non-book stock with ease.
- Works with BookScan and Edelweiss to support the independent market.

What our customers say

"BatchLine development is focused on the commercial priorities of booksellers."

"…keeps track of the stock, does some clever integrated magic that imports new titles from Gardners and also allows us to re-order directly from sales."

"The very best part about BatchLine are the people behind the screen: the techy wizards we never see, who keep all the hamsters running on the right wheels."

"…handles our complex requirements wonderfully: adaptable, reliable, with an easy-to-use interface."

"A stock control system with bookselling at its heart."

Contact us to discover how BatchLine POS can help your business to thrive .